

Bohrium Surprise Major

The image displays a 1456x8 grid of numbers. The numbers are arranged in 8 columns and 1456 rows. The grid is divided into four vertical sections by a horizontal line at row 1200. Each section contains a path of blue and red lines connecting the numbers. The paths are labeled with circled numbers 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, and 8. The numbers are arranged in a pattern that suggests a sequence of numbers, possibly related to the Bohrium element.

Labels on the left side of the grid indicate row counts for specific sections:

- 38 X
- 1456 X
- 56 X
